

"Mike" was a good student and a starting football player, but he was spending time with the wrong crowd. Considering the risk of gang involvement in his neighborhood, his parents enrolled him in one of Catholic Charities' gang prevention groups. Thanks to the positive encouragement of Catholic Charities, Mike decided not to join a gang and started volunteering instead. After high school, he went on to attend the University of Notre Dame.

July 2010

For many children and teens, time away from school, camping trips, lazy days at the beach, and playing with friends make summer vacation the best time of the year.

But, for others, summertime can be difficult, and even dangerous.

Families helped by Catholic Charities often don't have the extra income or time for summer activities.

Left alone while their parents work to pay the bills, children are at risk of depression, obesity, and gang violence.

Thankfully, Catholic Charities provides opportunities for children to have fun during the summer and throughout the year. At our special programs, young people, like Mike, find a safe place to play, learn, and develop.

Please contribute to Catholic Charities to provide much needed support for our children's programs. Your donation could change the course of a child's life. Thank you for your consideration.

God bless you,

Rev. Monsignor Gregory A. Cox
Executive Director

P.S. Catholic Charities helped 112,691 children in 2009. You may wish to make your donation by electronic payment (direct fund transfer), which is a safe, easy, convenient way to make your regular donations.

HONOR SOMEONE SPECIAL

April 2011

"Mr. and Mrs. Kent" are in their seventies. Mr. Kent has multiple medical problems and Mrs. Kent serves as his primary care giver. The couple's son recently called Catholic Charities, concerned about his mother's ability to cope with his father's illnesses and the increasing cost of his medical needs. A Catholic Charities case manager offered immediate emotional support and helped the family find affordable in-home care. The services allowed the couple to continue living independently.

At this time of year, we recognize the many people who have had a profound impact on our lives: mothers; fathers; grandparents; siblings; and friends.

Without their love and support, we would not be who we are today. Likewise, Catholic Charities would not be able to provide help and create hope for thousands of people in Los Angeles, Ventura, and Santa Barbara counties without your help.

As you remember the significant people in your life, consider recognizing them with a special contribution to Catholic Charities in their name.

A tribute or memorial gift is a great way to honor those close to you and also provide for the needs of others, like the Kents.

May our Lord bless you and all the important people in your life. Thank you for considering this request.

Sincerely,

Rev. Monsignor Gregory A. Cox
Executive Director

May 2013

Dear _____,

Each spring, we honor the women and men who have nurtured us throughout life: our mothers and fathers. As you celebrate your loved ones this year, will you consider making another parent's life easier?

"John" visited a yard sale being held by Catholic Charities and saw the perfect bed for his daughter, but he couldn't afford it. A staff member donated the bed to John and helped him bring it home. Once there, it was apparent that the family was living in a garage, with no furniture.

Catholic Charities rounded up more furniture for the family and connected John to other services, including job training, as his job had been eliminated. John's family is now on their way to a better life.

Your gift in honor or in memory of your loved ones will help remove barriers to self-sufficiency for over 250,000 people lifted up by Catholic Charities each year.

God bless you,

Monsignor Gregory A. Cox
Executive Director
